Medical on-call service	116117 The emergency number 116117 connects you to the medical on-call service. It is the right number to call if someone needs immediate medical help but the situation is not life-threatening - and if the normal surgeries are closed. Here you can find out which local on-call practice is open. In special emergencies - for example, if someone is too ill to get to a practice - the emergency service can send an on-call doctor to their home. 116117 is the number of choice for non-life-threatening illnesses such as lumbago, severe vomiting or diarrhea, earache, tonsillitis, cold with fever and pain.
